

A group of African children are gathered in what appears to be a school setting. In the foreground, a young girl with dark skin and curly hair looks directly at the camera with a serious expression; she is wearing a pink floral dress and a colorful beaded necklace. Next to her, another young child looks towards the camera while holding a small object. In the background, several other children are visible, some looking down and others looking towards the camera. One boy in the center-right is smiling and wearing a tan and purple jacket. The children are standing on a wooden floor in front of a wooden wall. The overall scene conveys a sense of everyday life in a school environment.
